Chancery Lane EC1N

Pinks Mews is a truly rare luxury development in London that effortlessly combines history, connectivity and luxury living.

Built on the foundations of six Victorian buildings and on a site dating back to the Middle Ages, Pinks Mews began life as 15th Century Dyers building, where the tailcoats of foxhunters – known as hunting ‘pinks’ – were dyed with the reddish pigment of the rare Madder Plant. Over the centuries, the site has performed a number of functions, but its essence as a place that stands out from the crowd has endured.

Situated in the heart of Holborn, opposite the 19th Century neo-Gothic Holborn Bars building, the development is in a perfect position to take advantage of all London has to offer, from world-leading universities such as the London School of Economics and University of the Arts London, to global firms like Slaughter & May and Goldman Sachs. Links to other parts of the capital are also excellent, with Chancery Lane tube station next door and Farringdon Station – one of stations set to host Crossrail in 2019 – a 10 minute walk away.

Completing the picture of the perfect urban retreat is Pinks Mews’ exquisite design standards. Interiors crafted by a specialist boutique design firm make every unit feel unique, while guaranteeing the high standard of finish. With a 24-hour concierge and gated access, residents will also feel secure and thoroughly catered for in this luxury new development.
