The village of St Mawgan includes a primary school, village shop and post office, attractive church, Japanese Garden, public house and recreational field. Mawgan Porth beach is about 2 miles to the west, the historic harbour of Padstow is about 8 miles to the north and the coastal resort of Newquay about 6 miles to the south.

Along the north Cornish coast are a number of renowned recreational and surfing beaches including Watergate Bay, Porthcothnan Bay, Treyamon Bay, Constantine Bay, Harlyn Bay and so forth.

THE MAIN RESIDENCE

The approach to Springstein House and Cottages is over a long driveway, which passes an area of hard-standing and as pair of open fronted buildings, before leading into a pleasant car parking and turning circle around a low stone walled island with shrubs.

Springstein House is a charming four double bedroom barn conversion with spacious accommodation arranged over two storeys.

An enclosed Entrance Porch with double aspect open to an Entrance Hall with an area perhaps suitable for a study or reading space. Off as an impressive split level Sitting and Dining Room with a wide stone fireplace with inset wood-burner, double aspect and sliding doors which open to a spacious Conservatory. The double aspect Kitchen and Living Room offers an extensive range of kitchen units including sink unit, integrated dishwasher, wine rack, oil-fired Rayburn and matching island unit with oven, hob and extractor hood. From the kitchen is an internal Side Porch with Separate WC and a useful Utility room with worksurfaces, further units, plumbing for washing machine/tumble dryer, space for freestanding refrigerator/freezer and door to outside.

Off the Entrance Hall are two good sized double Bedrooms, one with fitted wardrobe furniture and En Suite with shower, washbasin and wc, and a Bathroom with bath, washbasin and wc.

On the first floor is an internal Landing with doors off to two further Double Bedrooms (with part restricted ceiling height) both with eaves storage, Velux windows and countryside views as far as the sea in the distance at Mawgan Porth. Between the bedrooms is a Wet Room with shower, wc and washbasin.

Outside to the west and north is an adjoining formal garden with areas of lawn, pond, seating areas, shrubberies, vegetable garden with raised beds, fruit trees, polytunnel and a secluded patio with delightful views of the countryside towards Mawgan Porth valley and the sea in the distance. Outdoor Storage Room with sliding door.

THE TWO RESIDENTIAL COTTAGES

As shown on the attached floor plan, the two residential cottages, Charles and Jack's Patch, offer virtually identical layouts with minor differences in the configuration of the downstairs hallway. Both offer reverse level accommodation with two Bedrooms and either Bathroom or Shower Room facilities on the ground floor and pleasant open-plan Kitchen and Living Rooms on the first floor.

Each of the cottages benefit from their own good sized garden areas to the south-west.

THE VARIOUS BUILDINGS AND LAND

To the north east of the house is a Car Port with high eaves.

Off the hard-standing area is an open fronted 2 bay Barn and a second larger 3-bay partly enclosed General Purpose Building (about 1,350 sq ft) with high eaves. It is considered that these buildings offer some potential for conversion to further units of accommodation and, given the property's proximity to Newquay Airport, for alternative uses - subject to all necessary consents and approvals.

Adjacent is an area of level land. In total, Springstein House extends to just under 1.50 Acres.
