DESCRIPTION

Originally dating from the nineteenth century, 3 Tencery House has been comprehensively renovated and thoughtfully redesigned to an exceptional standard, creating a calm, stylish home that blends character with modern efficiency. Constructed of stone under a slate roof, there are lovely timber windows, the house is heated by an air source heat pump, with underfloor heating throughout providing comfort and energy efficiency.

ACCOMMODATION

At its heart is a striking open-plan living space, arranged across subtle split levels to create distinct yet connected areas for cooking, dining and relaxing. The bespoke German kitchen is both elegant and functional, featuring integrated appliances, an induction hob with pop-up extractor, and clean-lined cabinetry, all finished to a high specification.

The living area offers a warm and inviting feel, enhanced by engineered oak flooring, built-in storage and a natural sense of flow and light.

The shower room has been finished to a luxurious standard, with a digitally controlled walk-in shower and carefully considered fittings, creating a refined, spa-like space.

On the lower ground floor are two bedrooms, including a well-proportioned double with a window seat and fitted wardrobe. The second bedroom is currently arranged with a single bed and desk, offering flexibility for home working or guest accommodation.

OUTSIDE

The property enjoys two separate outdoor areas, both designed for low-maintenance, easy living.

To the front, a raised patio provides an ideal space for outdoor dining, enhanced by screening for a degree of separation. Steps lead down to an area of artificial lawn, creating an attractive and practical garden space.

To the rear, a further patio provides additional outdoor seating space, ideal for relaxing or entertaining. A recently installed shed provides useful additional storage.

The property also benefits from allocated parking.
