Ground Floor

The main entrance is at the front of the property and comprises a recessed porch with white, uPVC double-glazed front door and a wide, matching double-glazed side panel to the entrance hall.

The entrance hall is a spacious and bright reception area with a window to the side elevation having Venetian blind, and the staircase leads up to the first floor on the left with a side screen. There is a radiator, ceiling light point, central heating thermostat and white, six-panel doors lead to the lounge and dining kitchen. A white, four-panel door leads to the large, understairs store cupboard which also houses the Worcester gas central heating boiler and the electricity consumer unit. The flooring is an oak-style laminated floor covering which extends through into the dining kitchen.

The lounge is an attractive room at the front of the house, decorated in neutral tones with a large window to the front elevation, allowing natural light to flood into this room.

There is a coved ceiling with ceiling light point, two wall light points, a radiator, TV aerial lead and telephone socket. A feature electric fire and stone-effect surround with hearth and mantel shelf make a focal point in this room.

Wide, six-panel double doors can be opened to allow the accommodation to flow into the dining kitchen.

The dining kitchen is spacious, extending to the full width of the house and again, light and airy, having two large rear windows with roller blinds and a part-glazed (double-glazed) uPVC door onto the driveway at the side. The ceiling has ten downlighters and the light oak, laminated floor extends throughout from the hall.

A range of units is finished in white with woodblock-effect work surfaces, having ceramic-tiled splash-backs and there are base cupboards and drawers, three matching double wall cupboards, a single drainer, stainless steel sink unit with chrome lever taps and space for an upright fridge-freezer. There is a twin recess with plumbing for washing machine and dishwasher and the Indesit electric cooker has a four-plate hob, double oven incorporating grill and a digital timer, whilst above, there is an arched glass and stainless steel cooker hood with downlighters. In the dining area there is a double radiator beneath the rear window.

First Floor

The staircase leads up from the hall to an L-shaped landing of good size with screen extending around the stairwell and natural light from a side window with Venetian blind. There is a smoke alarm to the ceiling, a ceiling light point and a hinged trap access to the roof void which has extensive boarding for storage and a light.

White, six-panel doors lead to the bedrooms and bathroom and a white, three-panel door opens to a good-sized airing cupboard which contains the foam-lagged hot water cylinder to one side with immersion heater, linen shelving and a digital central heating programmer.

Bedroom 1 is at the front of the house and a spacious double room with modern, built-in wardrobes finished in light grey with sliding doors (the centred door is mirror panelled) and having clothes-hanging rails, drawers and shelf compartments within. The wide front window allows light to flood into this room and has a roller blind fitted. There is a radiator and ceiling light point.

Bedroom 2 is a further spacious double bedroom at the rear of the house with radiator, ceiling light point and a large rear window presenting an open outlook towards the houses of Tennyson Fields in the distance. This room also has a full-length range of built-in wardrobes with large sliding doors, clothes-hanging rails, shelf compartments and drawers within.

The bathroom is spacious and bright with a white suite comprising a low-level, dual-flush WC, a pedestal wash basin with chrome pillar lever tap and a panelled bath with lever mixer tap and Triton shower unit above, together with a decorative glazed side screen. The walls are ceramic-tiled around the suite and full height in the shower area over the bath. Lighting is by 5 ceiling downlighters and there is a radiator and rear window with roller blind.

Bedroom 3 is a single room at the front of the house with radiator, ceiling light point and front window having roller blind. The staircase bulkhead forms a low plinth.

Outside

From Chestnut Drive there is a vehicular driveway providing parking space and leading through wrought iron double gates, past the house to a detached, concrete sectional garage. There is an EV charging point for an electric car by the drive and external gas and electricity meter cabinets. The garage has an up and over door at the front, a side pedestrian door into the garden and sensor floodlights illuminating the driveway and rear garden. Within, there is good storage space, power points and a strip light.

An attractive front garden is laid to lawn behind a brick boundary wall with stone paving forming a circle around a shrub to the centre and a shaped flower bed at the side with a variety of roses and further plants.

The rear garden is a sun trap throughout the day and laid to lawn with an opening from the drive, a quadrant shaped flagstone patio and pathway around the garage. There is an outside tap under the kitchen window.

NB When the brick walled entrance to Tennyson Fields was constructed, this created an additional area of land to the side and rear of the original plot which has since been enjoyed by the owners and laid to gravel for seating and a raised vegetable growing bed. This has not, however been transferred into the legal title. The brick wall contributes to the security and shelter of the gardens, which are otherwise fenced to the side and rear of the plot with front brick wall as previously mentioned.

The property enjoys an open aspect at the rear overlooking the green area and swale of Tennyson Fields with the houses in the distance.
