A well proportioned family home, the ground floor features a entrance hallway living area, dining area and kitchen. In addition, the property benefits from a garden office, ideal for remote working and an oversized garage/workshop providing excellent storage or hobby space.

On the first floor, there are three generously sized bedrooms along with a family bathroom.

Externally, the property enjoys a pleasant, enclosed south-facing rear garden and further benefits include air conditioning and an air source heat pump, enhancing both comfort and energy efficiency.

This property represents an ideal family home, combining practical living space with modern features.

the location

Set in the ever popular Dundry Farm locality, this conveniently placed home has green and wooded walks at the nearby playing fields, Troopers Hill Nature Reserve and the River Avon at Crews Hole. There are local shops at Naggs Head Hill Road and the more comprehensive facilities of Hanham and Kingswood High Streets are a short distance away.

just a thought...

Behind this pleasantly modest exterior lies a well proportioned and well presented family home with oversized garage and gardens with a sunny aspect. This is a home not to be missed.

what the owners will miss

We would miss all the alterations that we have made that makes it our family home.
