The village itself offers a range of local amenities with a more extensive selection found at Mevagissey arranged around its myriad of cobbled streets and charming inner and outer harbours. The town of St Austell is about 9 miles to the north offering a wider range of facilities including comprehensive shopping, banking, schooling and recreational amenities. Some 16 miles to the west is the cathedral city of Truro which forms the retailing, administrative and cultural centre of the county.

Both St Austell and Truro have mainline railway stations connecting with London Paddington, whilst Newquay Airport on the north coast offers a number of scheduled domestic and international flights.
