SITUATION

The land is located directly off South Hill Road, on the western edge of the town of Callington in East Cornwall. Callington provides a host of local amenities including a health centre, a range of supermarkets and independent shops, cafes and restaurants and a secondary and primary school. The Duchy College is located just outside of the town which offers a variety of agricultural and vocational courses.

The A388 provides direct access to the larger town of Launceston (10 miles) to the north and Plymouth (16 miles) to the southeast. The A30 is located approximately 10 miles away and links directly to Exeter and Dartmoor.

DESCRIPTION

The land extends to approximately 10.29 acres (4.12 ha) of permanent grassland across three enclosures, there is a smaller paddock directly off the road which leads into two larger fields. The land is well enclosed by a combination of mature hedgerows and post and wire fencing. Access is taken directly from the adjoining highway (South Hill Road) and an internal track provides good internal access. There is a dilapidated corrugated sheet building located in the second field parcel which may provide a useful footprint for reinstatement.

The land is identified as grade 3 according to the Natural England Provisional Land Classification Maps. The soils may be described as freely draining slightly acid loamy soils, suitable for a range of spring and autumn sown crops with a long grazing season under grass.

METHOD OF SALE

The land is offered for by private treaty.
