Offers in Excess of £600,000 Freehold

Believed to date back to the early 1900s, this well proportioned home offers flexible, flowing living accommodation including a double ended sitting room, generous dining room and two cellar rooms that have been tanked and fitted out with power and lighting, ideal for home office or recreational spaces. There is also a modern kitchen with adjoining utility and shower/cloakroom. Upstairs the property has four bedrooms, one with en suite shower room, as well as a family bathroom.

The property has lots of windows, which are all double glazed, providing a good amount of natural light throughout. There are also fireplaces in several of the rooms, including two in the sitting room, one housing a woodburning stove, although we understand this will need refurbishing/replacement.

The house is generally presented in very good order but there are a few items that will likely need to be addressed by the next owners – please enquire for further details.

Accessed off the Dale Hill one way circular road, the property has a gated gravel turning and parking area including a double car port. To the South facing front of the house is a stretch of lawn and a paved patio. There is also a paved patio on the West side of the house and another courtyard area to the rear of the house, providing lots of options for seating and dining. The plot is well screened with high hedging to the front and rear and a boundary wall along the East side.

The property is located at the bottom of Dale Hill, on the edge of Ticehurst village, just over half a mile from the village centre.

Ticehurst is a friendly village, which offers an array of amenities including an award-winning pub in The Bell Inn, a village store with post office facilities, Buy the Weigh (zero waste shop and popular cafe), a pharmacy, hairdressers, florist, a dry cleaners, a charming gift shop, an art gallery, an India restaurant and take away, and a haberdashery. There is also St Mary's Church, plus a village hall, with club lounge, bar and library, and recreation ground with play area. The recreation ground is under half a mile from this property.

The local, Ofsted rated "good" primary school is within a few hundred yards and there are secondary state options in Wadhurst (4 miles), Robertsbridge (7.1 miles) and Heathfield (10.5 miles), plus several private schools around the area, including Hawkhurst (4 miles), Bodiam (7.5 miles), and Sacred Heart in Wadhurst. Tunbridge Wells offers further options including grammar schools.

Located in the High Weald National Landscape, the surrounding countryside provides a wealth of walking opportunities and stunning scenery, including nearby Bewl Water Reservoir and Bedgebury Pinetum.

Nearby Hawkhurst has supermarkets, a small cinema and other amenities. Tunbridge Wells (11.5 miles) offers more comprehensive shopping and recreational facilities. There are bus services to both from the village.

The nearest station is at Stonegate (4 miles), serving London Charing Cross and Cannon Street (Stonegate to London Bridge in just under 1hr).
